

Nnumari

An Example of Profound Culture

On the island of Sicily, by a gracefully standing castle...

A castle that has witnessed the pains of the past and the present...

For those leaving it in search for salvation in faraway lands...

It shed a tear...

The island that sheltered those coming in search for life...

It shed a tear...

The sound of waves brushing against the shore tangled with the joyful sound of Italian songs...

The smell of the Mediterranean combined with fine food being prepared by the best chefs...

Fish, pasta, cheese, basil, and wine...

The guests barefoot dancing on the moist grass...

How can they be anything but beautiful...

As happiness draws the finest lines of beauty...

Nnumari recreates culture into its best version...

It revives the past... Spreads joy into the present, and lights the road with hope for the future...

Today the castle smiles...
